

A systematic literature review on open-source software on library service sustainability in Bangladesh university libraries.

Author

Nur Ahammad

Farrah Diana Saiful Bahry

Haslinda Husaini

Purpose

This systematic literature review investigates the role of open-source software (OSS) in fostering sustainability within library services in Bangladesh University Libraries. This study aims to examine the current state of library services, identify sustainability challenges and explore the significance of OSS adoption in addressing these challenges.

Journal of Information, Communication and Ethics in Society

ISSN: 1477996X

Review2025

EID: 2-s2.0-105014881520

DOI: 10.1108/JICES-01-2025-0024